

State Pharmaceutical Assistance Programs

Some states offer a state pharmaceutical assistance program (SPAP) to help their residents pay for prescription drugs. Each program works differently. Some states offer programs that can help people with certain illnesses pay for their prescription drugs. For example, many states offer HIV/AIDS drug assistance programs (ADAPs) and programs for people who have End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD).

The states that offer SPAPs often coordinate their SPAPs with Medicare’s drug benefit (Part D). Check with your state’s program to see how it works with Part D. If a drug is covered by both your SPAP and your Part D plan, what you pay plus what the SPAP pays for the drug will count towards the out-of-pocket maximum you have to reach before your Medicare drug costs go down.

See the chart below to find out if your state has an SPAP or other drug assistance program, and find out how to contact the program for more information or to enroll.
